To Whom It May Concern:

I worked with Christina Brown at Booksy for a little over 1 year. Christina managed our Ambassador Community and did so with high energy and enthusiasm. Her ability to build, and most importantly, maintain relationships with some of our ambassadors was impressive.

With Christina comes a passion for relationship building, a lot of ambition and an amazing level of creativity and outside-of-the-box thinking. Christina possessed a genuine eagerness in cultivating relationships with many Ambassadors and really put her heart into quite a few projects she worked on and/or managed. During her tenure she also acted as mentor to a jr. member of the Marketing Team that left a positive and lasting impression that will not soon be forgotten.

Should any further information be needed please do not hesitate to reach out.

Sincerely,
